

Curriculum Vitae - Prof. Ron Shor

School of Social Work and Social Welfare
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
Mt. Scopus, Jerusalem, 91905
Israel
Email: ron.shor@mail.huji.ac.il

Higher Education

	Institution	Field of Study	Degree
1979-1982	Tel Aviv University	Social Work	B.S.W.
1985-1987	University of Southern California	Social Work	M.S.W.
1985-1987	Hebrew Union College	Jewish Communal Service	M.A.J.C.S.
1987-1992	University of Southern California	Social Work	Ph.D.

University Positions

- 10/1993-2/2000 Lecturer, Paul Baerwald School of Social Work and Social Welfare,
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
- 3/2000-3/2017 Senior Lecturer, Paul Baerwald School of Social Work and Social Welfare, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
- 3/2017-present Associate Professor, Paul Baerwald School of Social Work and Social Welfare, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Other roles in the Hebrew University

- 2000-2004, Head of the BA Program, Paul Baerwald School of Social Work.
and Social Welfare, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
- 2008-2015 - Head of the specialization in Psychiatric Rehabilitation of Persons
Coping With e Mental Illness in the MSW program.
- 2016 - 2023 Head of the Ralph Goldman Center for Welfare, Judaism and Ethics,
School of Social Work, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.
- 2015- present, Academic head of an MA program in Non Profit Management and Leadership, the Rothberg International School, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

2022-present, Associate Dean of Teaching, The School of Social Work and Social Welfare, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Roles in other Academic institutions

1992 Adjunct faculty member, School of Social Work, University of Southern California

9/1998-8/1999- Visiting scholar, Faculty of Social Work, University of Toronto

9/2006-8/2007- Visiting scholar, School of Social Work, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Other activities

Activities on the national level

Representative of the academic institutions, the Israeli National Advisory Committee of the Ministry of Health in the area of Psychiatric Rehabilitation, since March 2015

Member of the Israeli Social Work National Advisory Committee, 2010-2013

Awards

The University of Southern California, School of Social Work Gladys M. Salit Award given in recognition of highest achievement academically, in field work and creative leadership 5/87.

The Hebrew Union College Faculty Award for Academic Achievement (5/87)

The Golda Meir Fellowship, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, 1997

Honoris Causa, Doctor of Jewish Nonprofit Management, Hebrew Union College, Jewish Institute of Religion, July, 2013

Research Grants

2018-2022 The family as part of the client's system in the wards of mental health centers: A comparative study of evaluating the implementation of a Family-Centered Care model. The Israeli National Institute for Health Services and Health Policy. (NIHP, Gartner Building).

2017-2019 Programs for completing Education for Persons With Severe Mental Illness: Examining their contribution to the social mobility of their participants and the difficulties they experience during their studies. Funded by The Israeli National Insurance Institute.

2013-2016 Parenting related needs and difficulties of persons with mental illness who have young children. Funded by the Morowitz Foundation,

2013-2015 Pathways to Mental Health Treatment: Barriers to Treatment of Caregivers of persons with mental illness. The Israeli National Institute for Health Services and Health Policy (NIHP, Gartner building)

2012-2015 Supported education programs for persons with mental illness in Israel. Funded by the Israeli National Insurance Institute, The Research and Planning Fund Israel

2013-2014 Health promotion of persons with mental illness in closed wards; Shaar Menashe Psychiatric Hospital and in the Beer Sheva Psychiatric Hospital. Funded by the Israeli Ministry of Health.

2010-2012. Health promotion programs for persons with severe mental illness. Funded by the Israeli National Institute for Health Services and Health Policy (NIHP, Gartner building).

2009-2012 Culturally oriented supported education program for religious persons with severe mental illness. Funded by the Israeli National Insurance Institute, The Research and Planning Fund.

2006-2008 The Keshet programs--training programs in the Cognitive Dynamic approach for parents of persons with mental illness including an evaluation of a pioneering program in the Ultra Orthodox city Bnei Brak. Funded by the Israeli National Insurance Institute, Israel.

2002-2005, - A three year evaluation of the Beit Reshet project for treating youth at risk. This is an innovative community oriented project with the aim of maintaining youth at risk in the community and avoiding sending them to out of home placements. Funded by the Israeli National Insurance Institute, Israel.

2004-2007 The Benafshenu program. A self advocacy program for persons with mental illness and their family members. Funded by the Israeli National Insurance Institute.

2004-2007 A three year evaluation of nutrition educational programs (which were led by nutritionists and social workers) in educational and social welfare institutions in the poor neighborhoods of Jerusalem. Ashalim, Joint Israel.

2004-2005 The guiding orientation of social work practice teachers. Ron Shor and Yeudith Avnir, Internal funding, School of Social Work, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

2000-2003, An evaluation of the introduction of structured dialogue with people with mental illness and drug addiction into the training of future health and mental health professionals. Internal funding. School of Social Work and Social Welfare, the Hebrew University of Jerusalem,

2000-2002 A comparative study of conflicts experienced between immigrant parents in Canada and in Israel, and professionals in educational institutions about appropriate responses to children's misbehavior, funded by Howard Irving, Toronto Canada.

2000-2002, A Comparison of child rearing practices of immigrant parents from the Former Soviet Union and Israeli born parents. Funded by the Varburg foundation.

1997-1998, Child rearing practices of immigrant families from the Former Soviet Union. Funded by the Varburg foundation.

1995-1997, Factors which affect the diagnosis and reporting of abused and neglected children by health and mental health professionals. Conducted in collaboration with prof. M. Haj Yahia. Funded by the Milton Rosenbaum foundation.

1995-1997, A comparative study of the approach of Jewish and Arab Families, towards child maltreatment (this research included families from the Ultra Orthodox society). Conducted in collaboration with prof. M. Haj Yahia, funded by the Varburg foundation.

1994-1995,. The approach of Arab families towards child maltreatment. Conducted in collaboration with prof. M. Haj Yahia, Funded by the Harry S. Truman Institute for the Advancement of Peace.

1993-1994 The approach of future health and mental health professionals towards child maltreatment. Conducted in collaboration with prof. M. Haj Yahia, Internal funds, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Conferences

Shor, R. & Haj-Yahia, M. A cross-cultural study of attitudes toward child abuse and neglect: Arabs vs. Jewish students of the health and mental health professions. Lecture given in the First International Conference on Social Work in Health and Mental Health Care, Jerusalem, January, 1995.

Haj-Yahia M. & Shor, R. The approach of students of social work towards child maltreatment. Lecture given in the 14th Conference of the Union of Israeli Social Workers. Jerusalem, May 1995.

Shor, R. Child maltreatment as perceived by future professionals in Israel. Lecture given in the European Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect. Oslo, Norway, May 1995.

Shor, R. Child maltreatment as perceived by Arab students of social sciences in the West Bank. Lecture given in the European Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect. Oslo, Norway, May 1995.

Shor, R. Methods of bridging between research and practice. Lecture given in the Conference of Schools of Social Work in Israel, October, 1995.

Shor, R. Factors affecting the diagnosis of child maltreatment as perceived by pediatricians in Israel. Lecture given in the San Diego Conference on Responding to Child Maltreatment. San Diego, U.S.A. January, 1997.

Shor, R. The significance of religion in advancing a culturally sensitive approach towards child maltreatment. Lecture given in the First Inter-Disciplinary Conference on Children at Risk in Israel. June, 1997.

Shor R. Partnership between parents and professionals. Given in a conference on Youth Violence. University of North Carolina, September 1997

Shor R. The significance of the cultural context in understanding the perception of immigrants from the Former Soviet Union towards child maltreatment. Lecture given in the European Congress on Child Abuse and Neglect. Barcelona, October 1997.

Shor R. Multi-culture perspective on child maltreatment. Invited Lecture the Bell Canada Child Welfare Research Unit, the Center for Applied Social Research, Faculty of Social Work, University of Toronto, December 1998

Shor R. Methodological issues in studying measures of handling children's misbehavior by immigrant parents from the Former Soviet Union. The Faculty of the Culture, Community & Health Studies program. Clark Institute of Psychiatry, University of Toronto, January 1999.

- Shor R. Multicultural perspective on inappropriate child-rearing practices: The Case of immigrants from the Former Soviet Union. F. Harney Professorship and program in Ethnic, Immigration and Pluralism Studies, University of Toronto, January 1999.
- Shor R., Inappropriate child rearing practices as perceived by Jewish immigrant parents from the FSU. International conference on Post Soviet youth: A comparative study. The Jerusalem Conference in Canadian Studies. Jerusalem, June 2000
- Lightman E. & Shor, R. Askanim: Informal helpers and cultural brokers in the Ultra Orthodox Jewish Communities of Israel and Canada. The Jerusalem conference in Canadian Studies, June 2000.
- Shor R. Introducing structured dialogue with people with mental illness into the training of social work students. The International Conference of Schools of Social Work. Montpellier, July, 2002.
- Shor R. A comparative study of conflicts experienced between immigrant parents in Canada and in Israel, and professionals in educational institutions about appropriate responses to children's misbehavior. The Jerusalem Conference in Canadian Studies, June 2002.
- Shor R. Factors affecting the decision making about implementing physical punishment. Lecture given in the IXth ISPACAN European Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect, Warsaw, 2003.
- Shor R. A model to change students approach towards socially excluded populations: Persons with drug addiction as knowledge providers. International Conference of Schools of Social Work. Cyprus, July 2005.
- Shor R. Using dimensions of differentiation to analyze parent-child interaction during mealtime. Given in the Division of Nutrition Sciences, Cornell University, November, 2006.
- Shor R. Issues involved in advancing interdisciplinary collaboration between nutritionists and social workers: A model to reduce the risks for poor nutrition. Given in the Division of Nutrition Sciences, Cornell University, March 2007.
- Shor R. Finaret Andrea The Challenges in Social Work Education in the Field of Psychiatric Rehabilitation. The 17th Israeli Conference of Social Workers. June 2010.

- Shor R., Recovery oriented health promotion programs for persons with severe mental illness. The conference of the U.S. Psychiatric Rehabilitation Association, Boston, June, 2011.
- Shor R. Barriers to healthy nutrition habits and participation in physical activities experienced by persons with severe mental illness: Implications for advancing recovery oriented processes. The Fourth Qualitative Research on Mental Health Conference, University of Nottingham, July 2012.
- Shor R. The subjective experience of persons with mental illness of their Participation in academic studies. The Fourth Qualitative Research on Mental Health Conference, University of Nottingham, July 2012.
- Weiss,P. Shor R. Lidor N. (2012). 1st International conference on Cultural Psychiatry in Mediterranean Countries. Cultural Impact within caregiver interactions of Ultra-Orthodox Jewish Women and their family members with Mental Illness. Tel Aviv. Dec. 2012
- Shor R. The contribution to recovery of the participation of persons with mental illness in academic studies and challenges to their social inclusion. Children and Young People's Mental Health, University of Northampton, July, 2013
- Shor R. Parents with Mental Illness: Areas in Which Help is Needed and Resources for Help. 4th International Conference on Parents with Mental Health Challenges. San Francisco, April, 2014.
- Shor R., Parents with mental illness: Identifying their needs and patterns of support. International research group on parents with mental illness. Prato (the campus of Monash University, Australia), Italy. May 2015
- Shor R, Kappel K. R., Knudsen P. M., Pedersen L. M., Avshalom S., Weiss P., Sepier K. V.. Difficulties of students with mental illness. A comparative study between Israel and Denmark. 1st European Conference on Supported Education for Persons With Mental Illness, Groningen, the Netherlands, November, 2015
- Shor R. The need for help of parents coping with mental illness. 5th international Conference on Families and Children with Parental Mental Health Challenges Basel, Switzerland, August 2016
- Shor R. Challenges and contribution of participation in Supported Education Programs in universities for persons with severe mental illness. ENMESH, Groningen, the Netherlands, October, 2017

Tamar Paley Altit, Ron Shor, Adina Maier, Self compassion and occupational competence predict quality of life among adults with ADHD. The International ADHD congress, Tel Aviv, March 2018

Shor R. The nature of help persons with mental illness receive in Supported Education Programs in Israel. The World Association of Psychiatric Rehabilitation (WAPR) Madrid, July, 2018

Shor R. Advancing the Social Inclusion of Religious Persons With Mental Illness: The Role of Culturally-Oriented Organizations. The World Association of Psychiatric Rehabilitation (WAPR) Madrid, July, 2018

Shor R. The Extent and Nature of Involvement of Family Members in Community Residential Arrangements for Persons With Mental Illness. It Takes a Village to raise child conference, An international conference, Families Experiencing substance use, mental or physical health problems. Oslo, May, 2019

Shor R. Barriers to advancing wellness of persons with severe mental illness. , Tenth International Conference on Health, Wellness & Society, Paris, September 2021

Shor R. & Shalev A. The Family as Part of the Client's System in the Wards of Mental Health Centers: A comparative study evaluating the implementation of a family-centered care model. The 14th annual conference of Health Policy. March, 2022.

Shor R. The challenges of inclusion experienced by students with mental illness in universities in Israel and the ways to overcome them. The 6th conference on assertive outreach (EAOF), Leuven, September, 2023.

Publications

Dissertation

Shor, R. (1992). The value to big brothers of the relationships with the child. Doctoral dissertation, University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

Chapters in books

Bloch, A. C. & Shor, R. (1995). From consultation to therapy in group work with parents of cultists. In Turner, F. J. (Ed.). Differential diagnosis and treatment in social work (4th ed.). The Free Press, New York NY.

Shor, R. (1997). The implications of poverty within families in Israel on situations of child abuse and neglect. In J. Gal (Ed.) Children in Poverty in Israel, pp. 49-56, Jerusaelm. (In Hebrew).

- Avnir Y. & Shor R. (2000). A systemic qualitative evaluation of levels of differentiation in families with children at risk. In A. Wysocki (Ed.) Reading in social research methods. pp. 111-122. Wadsworth Publishing.
- Shor, R. (2003). The significance of cultural factors in assessing children at risk among immigrant parents from the Former Soviet Union. In E. Leshem & D. Roar Streir. (Eds.) Cultural diversity: A challenge to human services pp. 183-194. Magnes, Jerusalem (In Hebrew).
- Shor R. (2017) The significance of the cultural component in the work with families in the area of psychiatric rehabilitation. In A. Shalev & N. Hadas Lidor, (Eds.) From invisibility to partnership: The pathways of coping and recovery with a psychiatric illness in the family.
- Shalev A. & Shor R. (2017). Meital, a family centered service for families of persons with mental illness. In A. Shalev & N. Hadas Lidor (Eds.) From invisibility to partnership: The pathways of coping and recovery with a psychiatric illness in the family.
- Weiss P., Hadas-Lidor N. & Shor R. (2017) Cultural aspects within families of Ultra-Orthodox Jewish Persons with Mental Illness. In A. Shalev & N. Hadas Lidor (Eds.) From invisibility to partnership: The pathways of coping and recovery with a psychiatric illness in the family.
- Klein Elazari R., Shor R., Hadas Lidor N. (2018) The Keshet cognitive dynamic course, analysis of protocols and their outcomes. In Hadas N. L. & Lachman M. , Against all chances: From rehabilitation and from recovery in mental health to community inclusion. The Uno (In Hebrew).

Published Research Reports

- Shor R. (2006). Evaluation of Beith Reshet: A Center for Treatment of Youth at Risk. Israel: The National Insurance Institute
- Shor, R. (2008) Benfashenu: A program which its staff members are persons with mental illness Israel: The National Insurance Institute
- Shor R. (2009) Keshet Program-Advancement, collaboration and communication. A program for training family members of persons with mental illness. Israel: The National Insurance Institute

Published Articles

- Block, C. A. & Shor, R. (1989). From consultation to therapy in group work with parents of cultists. Social Casework, 70 (4), 231-236 (currently it is Families and society)
- Shor R, (1993). The value of Jewish component in the experience of volunteer big brothers. Journal of Jewish Communal Service, 70 (1), 77-80.
- Shor R. (1995). The helper therapy principle as it applies to men who had absentee fathers. Families in Society, 76 (2), 97-102.
- Haj-Yahia, M. & Shor, R. (1995). Child maltreatment as perceived by Arab students of social sciences in the West Bank. Child Abuse & Neglect: The international Journal, 19, (10), 1209-1219
- Shor R. (1996). The value to big brothers of the relationship with a child. Journal of Applied Social Sciences. 20(1), 83-89.
- Shor R. & Haj-Yahia M. (1996). A cross-cultural study of attitudes towards child maltreatment: Arab vs. Jewish students of mental health professions. Journal of Applied Social Sciences. 20(2), 135-145.
- Shor R. & Haj-Yahia M. (1996). The approach of Israeli health & mental health students towards child maltreatment. Child Abuse & Neglect: The International Journal, 425-435.
- Shor R. (1997). Identification and reporting of maltreated children by teachers. Early Child Development and Care, 134, 61-73.
- Shor R. (1997). The approach of immigrant families from the former Soviet Union towards child maltreatment. Early Child Development and Care, 139, 1-11.
- Shor R. (1998). The significance of religion in advancing a culturally sensitive approach towards child maltreatment. Families in Society. 79(4), 400-409.
- Shor R. (1998). Pediatricians in Israel: Factors which affect the diagnosis and reporting of maltreated children. Child Abuse & Neglect: The International Journal, 22(2), 81-91.

- Avnir Y. & Shor, R. (1998). A systemic qualitative evaluation of levels of differentiation in families with children at risk. Families in Society, 79(5), 504-513
- Shor R. (1999) Inappropriate child rearing practices as perceived by immigrant parents from the Former Soviet Union. Child Abuse & Neglect: The International Journal, 23(5), 487-499.
- Shor R. (1999). Beyond a cross-cultural definition of child maltreatment: Comparing immigrants from the Caucasus and European countries of the Former Soviet Union. International Journal of Adolescence and Youth, 7, 297-315.
- Shor R. (2000). Child maltreatment: Differences in perceptions between parents in low income and middle income neighborhoods. British Journal of Social Work, 30, 165-178.
- Shor R. (2000). Jewish immigrant parents from the former Soviet Union: A method for studying their views of how to respond to children's misbehavior. Child Abuse and Neglect: The International Journal, 24(3), 353-362. 2.974
- Lightman E. & Shor R. (2002) Askanim: Informal helpers and cultural brokers in the Ultra Orthodox Jewish communities of Israel and Canada. Families in Society. 83(3), 315-324.
- Shor R. & Sykes I. (2002). Introducing structured dialogue with people with mental illness into the training of social work students. Journal of Psychiatric Rehabilitation 26(1), 63-69.
- Shor R. & Bernhard J. (2003). A comparative study of conflicts experienced between immigrant parents in Canada and in Israel, and professionals in educational institutions about appropriate responses to children's misbehavior. Intercultural Education. 14(4), 385-396.
- Shor R. (2004). Conflicts experienced by immigrant parents from the Former Soviet Union about responses to Children's Misbehavior in Educational Institutions. Education in Society, 21(3), 41-51.
- Finaret A. E. & Shor R. (2006) Perceptions of professionals about the nature of rehabilitation relationships with persons with mental illness and the dilemmas and conflicts that characterize these relationships. Qualitative Social Work. 5(2); 151-166.

- Shor R. (2006) Physical punishment as perceived by parents in Russia: Implication for professionals involved in the care of children. Early childhood development and care. 176(3-4),429-439.
- Shor R. (2006). When children have problems: Comparing help seeking Approaches of Israeli-born parents and immigrants from the FSU. International Social Work. 49(6), 745-756
- Shor R. (2007) Differentiating the culturally-based help-seeking patterns of immigrant parents from the Former Soviet Union by a comparison with parents in Russia. American Journal of Orthopsychiatry 77 (2), 216-221.
- Shor R & Friedman A. (2009) Integration of nutrition-related components by early childhood education professionals into their individual work with children at Risk. Early Childhood Development and Care._ 179(4), 477-486.
- Shor R. (2010) Children-at-risk from poor Nutrition: Advancing the Approach and Practice of Students of Social Work. Social Work Education, 29(6), 646-659.
- Shor R. (2010) Interdisciplinary collaboration between social workers and dieticians in nutrition education programs for children-at-risk. Social Work in Health Care, 49(4), 345-36.
- Shor R. & Avihod G. (2011). The conceptual model and guiding principles of supported education program for Orthodox Jewish persons with severe mental illness. Community Mental Health Journal 47(5), 568-572 . 1.360; 283/354 (Psychiatry).
- Shor R. (2011). Children-at-risk for poor nutrition: Expanding the approach of future professionals in educational institutions. Child Abuse and Neglect: The International Journal. 35, 606-612. 2.974
- Shor R. & Levit S. (2012). Persons With Drug Addiction as Knowledge Providers: Their Contribution to Social Work Education Journal of Teaching Social Work, 32(2), 190-203.
- Shor R. & Birnbaum M. (2012) Meeting unmet needs of families of persons with mental illness: Evaluation of a Peer Provider Helpline. Community Mental Health Journal, 48(4), 482-388.

- Shor, R. & Shalev A. (2013) Identifying barriers to improving the wellness of persons with severe mental illness in community residential health facilities. Social Work in Mental Health, 11:4.
- Weiss P., Shor R. & Hadas-Lidor N. (2013) Cultural aspects within caregiver Interactions of Ultra-Orthodox Jewish women and their family members with Mental illness. American Journal of Orthopsychiatry, 83(4), 520-527.
- Shor R. Kalivatz Z., Amir Y., Aldor R., Lipot M. (2015) Therapeutic factors in a group for parents with mental illness. Community Mental Health Journal. 51, 79- 84 DOI: 10.1007/s10597-014-9739-2.
- Shor R. & Shalev A. (2015) The Significance of services in a psychiatric hospital for family members of persons with mental illness. Families, Systems and Health. 33(1), 68-71 doi.org/10.1037/fsh0000098
- Shor R. & Shalev A. (2016). Barriers to involvement in physical activities of persons with mental illness. Health Promotion International, 31(1), 116-123.
- Shor. R. & Moreh-Kremer M. (2016) Identity development of mothers with mental illness: Contribution and Challenges of Motherhood. Social Work in Mental Health.. 14(3), 215-226
- Shor R. (2016). Difficulties experienced by university students with severe mental illness who participate in supported education programs. Community Mental Health Journal. DOI 10.1007/s10597-016-0026-2.
- Shalev A. & Shor R. (2016). The needs for help of family members of persons with mental illness within a special service for families in the Beer Sheva Mental Health Center, Medicine (Hebrew), 155(12); 749-752.
- Weiss, P, Shor R., Lidor N. (2017). The presence of the cultural context in the Interactions of Ultra-Orthodox women with their family members with mental illness. Israeli Journal of Occupational Therapy (IJOT), 26(2), 125-144.
- Ordan, R., Shor R., Liebergall-Wischnitzer M., Noble L. M., Noble A. (2017). Nurses' professional stigma and attitudes towards postpartum women with severe mental illness. Journal of Clinical Nursing DOI: 10.1111/jocn.14179

- Shor, R. & Avihod G. (2018). Rehabilitative Beit Midrash as a means for advancing the community integration of Ultra Orthodox Jewish persons with severe mental illness. Mental Health, Religion and Culture, 21(7), 698-706
DOI: 10.1080/13674676.2018.1517303
- Paley Altit T., Shor R., Maier A. (2019) Occupational identity, competence, and environments among adults with and without attention deficit hyperactivity disorder. Occupational Therapy in Mental Health, DOI: 10.1080/0164212X.2019.1588833
- Shor R., Avshalom S., Kappel R. K., Lapidot Y., Speier Keisar V. (2020). The challenges of inclusion experienced by students with mental illness in universities: A comparative study between Denmark and Israel. International Journal of Inclusive Education. DOI: 10.1080/13603116.2021.1946724
- Shor R. (2021). The role of religion in the stressors experienced by Ultra-rtho Jewish caregivers of persons with disability during the COVID-19 period. Journal of Religion and Spirituality in Social Work 10.1080/15426432.2021.2009408
- Shor R., Nahoum Shaty, A. Shalev (2022) Barriers to Pathways to Care for Family Members of Persons with Severe Mental Illness in a Family-Centered Service. Journal of Family Social Work. 25 (1), 25-43DOI: 10.1080/10522158.2022.2058142
- Shor R. Shalev A. (2023) Family Members' Restricted Visitations in Psychiatric Hospitals During the COVID-19 Pandemic: Implications for Social Workers in Mental Health Systems, Social Work in Mental Health, DOI: 10.1080/15332985.2023.2240923
- Lester Keidar Y., Maeir A., Shor R. & Paley T. (2023). Self-compassion and quality of life among adults with and without ADHD in Israel. The Israeli Journal of Occupational Therapy, 32(3), E70-E88.